Part 1 — Grammar Drill (10 min)

These are every sentence with a mistake from my first two essays, exactly as I wrote them. Rewrite each one correctly without looking at anything. The answers are on the last pages, so don't look until you finish a set.

Set	Sentences	When
A	1–8 (essay 1)	Today
B	9–16 (essays 1 and 2)	Warm-up for my next office hour
C	17–24 (essay 2)	Warm-up for the office hour after that

Only the two sentences from these essays that had no mistakes are left out.

Set A — Essay 1: free time and educational activities

1. Some parents argue that during leisure time, their children should participate on educational activities, other believe that they will be under pressure by this way.
2. I completely disagree with the view because others activities are essential for developing creative mind.
3. On the one hand, parents support that their children should consistence with educational activities, even though, in leisure time.
4. In this competitive world everyone should be consistent to achieve good academic results.
5. Which later led to good career opportunities in the future.
6. For example, if any student study regularly and achieve great result; its high chance he will get chance to study well-known university or college later which open his better career path compare to how don't get chance.
7. On the other hand, critics argue that this way pressurizes children even more.
8. Continuous study or study related activities make children overwhelmed and it prevents development of children.

Set B — Essays 1 and 2

9. For instance, a student who always attends study event but not participants other activities like: football, cricket or other physical games, might not be a good leader or she/he will be not good at teams player.

10. Besides educational activities, other extra curriculum activities also need to practices to develop children's cognitive and emotional development which is equal important in later life.
11. Therefore, I firmly believe it's essential to attend other extra curriculum activities in their leisure time.
12. I believe participating in other activities also equal essential as educational for students' development.
13. Some people argue that homework should not gives to children everyday, while others believe they should touch on regularly to achieve academic performance.
14. I firmly agree with the view because for everyday homework, students will get less or no time for extra curriculum activities and it's essential to develop their mental and physical health.
15. On the one hand, critics support that students should be doing homework to achieve success in educational institutes.
16. They believe that if students do homework regularly they will be in the environment of study.

Set C — Essay 2: daily homework

17. It will be easy for them to finish syllabus as well as revise and it will help for getting better scores in exams which eventually leads to successful in the school and career.
18. For example, if any student does homework regularly, they need to study to complete their tasks and it will be much easier to cover up their syllabus compared with, who never do school exercises in time.

19. Therefore, people think there is also a positive side to practicing school tasks from time to time.
20. On the other hand, supporters believe that educational institutes must not force regular tasks on children.
21. If they have attached with schoolworks day to day there will be less or no time for hobbies, exercises or other play which is as equally essential to improve physical health as well as mental well-being.
22. A student, for instance, who spends time on hobbies, exercises and other activities, along with assignments, there has a better chance to succeed in school because he will be more open to leaderships, creative minds.
23. For this reason, I completely support that pupils not only do assignments but they spend time on other activities.
24. In conclusion, although there are supporters and critics about whether schoolwork should be done regularly or not, I firmly believe that they should maintain a balance with assignments, therefore students can make time for other activities also.

    Tip: sentences 2, 7, 12, 14, 19, 20, 23 and 24 also have an opinion problem (unclear view, "critics/supporters" for my own view, or a "both / balance" ending). Fix the grammar and the opinion.

Part 2 — Plan (5 min)

Question

Some people think that it is better for children to grow up in the countryside, while others believe that a city is a better place for them to grow up. Discuss both views and give your opinion.

One special rule for today: support the FIRST view (the countryside). This practises the mistake from essay 2. My view must go last, so the order changes:

Paragraph	What goes in it
Intro	City view first, then countryside. Then I completely support the latter view because…
BP1	The city view: On the one hand, people who argue that… (no "I")
BP2	The countryside view: On the other hand, I firmly believe that…
Conclusion	While [city theme], I firmly believe that [countryside] because [the same reason].

Write these before you start the essay:

- One reason and one example for the city (BP1)
- One reason and one example for the countryside (BP2)
- My 3 opinion sentences (intro, BP2 topic sentence, conclusion), all with the same reason

Part 3 — Write (35 min)

- Aim for about 280 words: 40 + 100 + 100 + 40.
- For each example, use the pattern a child who…, never if any child…

- BP2 needs an R sentence: Although some people argue that [BP1 point], [my side].

Part 4 — Check (5 min)

Checklist A — Task Response

- ☐ My opinion sentence says which view: I completely support the latter view because ____.
- ☐ My view goes last in the intro (today: city first, countryside last).
- ☐ One reason, the same in the intro, the BP2 topic sentence and the conclusion.
- ☐ BP2 starts with I firmly believe, not critics argue or supporters believe.
- ☐ No also, both, equally, balance, not only… but also in my opinion sentences.
- ☐ Examples start with a ____ who ____, never if any child.
- ☐ The example shows the sentence before it (the 5-second test).
- ☐ BP2 has an R sentence: Although some people argue that…, …

- ☐ No he/she: use they or plural nouns
- ☐ Spelling: extracurricular, every day (how often), career, environment
- ☐ Word count 260–299

Part 5 — Self-Score (5 min)

Write these under your essay, then send the essay and your scores to Claude:

Words	_____

Checklist A items passed	_____ / 8
Sentences I think have no errors	_____ / _____

Part 1 Answers (check after you finish each set)

The bold words show what changed. Other correct answers are possible, so if yours is different, ask Claude.

Set A

1. Some parents argue that their children should participate in educational activities during their leisure time, while others believe that this will put them under pressure.
2. I completely support the latter view because other activities are essential for developing a creative mind.
3. On the one hand, some parents argue that their children should stay consistent with their studies, even in their leisure time.
4. In this competitive world, everyone needs to be consistent to achieve good academic results.
5. This can later lead to good career opportunities. (Later and in the future say the same thing, so keep one.)
6. For example, a student who studies regularly and achieves great results has a high chance of studying at a well-known university, which opens a better career path compared with those who do not get this chance.
7. On the other hand, I firmly believe that this puts children under even more pressure.
8. Continuous study and study-related activities leave children overwhelmed, and this prevents their overall development.

Set B

9. For instance, a student who always attends study events but never takes part in other activities such as football, cricket or other physical games may not become a good leader or a good team player.
10. Extracurricular activities need to be practised to support children's cognitive and emotional development, which is essential in later life. (Removed "besides educational activities... also... equal": that wording makes the opinion "both".)
11. Therefore, I firmly believe that it is essential for children to take part in extracurricular activities in their leisure time.
12. I firmly believe that participating in other activities is more beneficial for students' development than extra study.
13. Some people argue that homework should not be given to children every day, while others believe that children need it regularly to achieve good academic results.
14. I completely support the former view because with daily homework, students get little or no time for extracurricular activities, which are essential for their mental and physical health. (Better: swap the order of the two views and use the latter.)
15. On the one hand, people who support daily homework argue that students should do it to achieve success at school.
16. They believe that if students do homework regularly, they will stay in the habit of studying.

Set C

17. It will be easier for them to finish the syllabus and revise, and this will help them get better scores in exams, which eventually leads to success at school and in their career.
18. For example, a student who does homework regularly needs to study to complete the tasks, so it is much easier for them to cover the syllabus than for those who never do school exercises on time.
19. Therefore, many people believe that daily homework is the key to success at school. ("From time to time" means "sometimes", the opposite of this view.)
20. On the other hand, I firmly believe that schools must not force daily homework on children.
21. If children are tied to schoolwork every day, there will be little or no time for hobbies, exercise or play, which are essential for both physical health and mental well-being.
22. A student, for instance, who spends time on hobbies, exercise and other activities along with assignments has a better chance of succeeding at school because they will develop leadership skills and creativity.
23. For this reason, I completely agree that pupils should not only do assignments but also spend time on other activities. (Grammar fixed. For a one-sided ending, write: Consequently, homework should be set only a few times a week.)
24. In conclusion, although people hold different views on whether schoolwork should be done every day, I firmly believe that schools should not set homework daily so that students have time for other activities.
